

Polish-Hungarian cooperation for energy security in the context of energy transition and economy competitiveness / edited by Mariusz Ruszel, Anna Witkowska. – Rzeszów, 2022

Spis treści

| | |
|--|------------|
| PREFACE | 4 |
| Chapter 1. Dominik P. Jankowski Enhancing energy security on NATO's eastern flank: the case of the NATO Pipeline System | 9 |
| Chapter 2. Péter Rada, Attila Farkas Castle on sand? The evolution of EU energy and climate policy and its potential paradoxes | 21 |
| Chapter 3. Paweł Turowski Poland and Hungary - possible fields of cooperation in the energy sector | 32 |
| Chapter 4. Mariusz Ruszel The importance of natural gas in the energy policies of Poland and Hungary - a comparative analysis | 45 |
| Chapter 5. Tomasz Chyła The energy security of the Three Seas Initiative countries in the context of the directions of natural gas supplies to Poland and Hungary | 57 |
| Chapter 6. Dominik Héjj The Paks nuclear power plant and Hungary's attitude to the European Green Deal | 68 |
| Chapter 7. Viktor Varjú Considering renewable potentials and supporting policy for energy transition | 86 |
| Chapter 8. Jakub A. Bartoszewski, Anna Mikulska Teachable Moments: Economic and Energy Security Implications of Coal in Poland and Hungary | 114 |
| CONCLUSION | 134 |
| NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS | 139 |